With regard to the letter received and acknowledged on 14th November 2017, professional advice had been sought and confirmation had been received that there are no legal requirements to publish notes of Working Group meetings. These are informal meetings and the notes are simply an aide memoir for members. It was noted that the Working Group had no decision making powers and reports its findings to the Infrastructure Plan Committee, which is held in public with minutes published.

The opinion of the original Community Centre Working Group members had been sought and the majority were not in favour of publishing past notes. It was noted that when they had joined the notes were at that time not intended to be published, and this was taken into account when canvassing their views.

91211117 It was agreed that the notes of past Working Group meetings would not be published.

All notes of Working Group meetings from October 2017 would be published on the website and new Working Group members had been informed of this and had also been issued with the notes of previous meetings for information only.
